Chicago Journal of Commerce says: Dr. Price's Flavoring Extracts are the finest, purest, and best to be found in this or say other city; only necessary to visit his Laboratory to be convinced that they are perfectly pure and superior in strength. The Chicago Tribune Review says: Although Steele & Price have enlarged their facilities for the production of Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder and Special Flavorings, they are hardly able to meet the rapidly increasing demand for them. In this age of adultoration, it is gratifying to find one honest effort to stick by the old path of honesty, and consumers owe it to themselves to patronize those making the effort. For natural flavorings none can compare with Dr. Frice's, and to make the sweetset, most wholesome, and easily digested bread use Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder.

FUDGE LYNCH SETTLES THE CASE OF SCHELL-HE IS TAKEN FROM THE JAIL BY A MOB AND

Bellerostaine, O., Sept. 25.—Daylight this morning revealed the ghastly sight of the body of James Schell dangting from the limb of a tree in the Court-house yard. Rumors of inended lynching were rite yesterday afternoon and in fact long before dark wagon load after wagon load of determined men had arrived in town from the direction of Urbana.

Sheriff Chandler took every precaution to protect the prisoner. After locking the jail and cells he secreted the keys and placed a strong goard on duty. About midnight the mob approached, fully five hundred strong, and the guard seeing the uselessness of resistance, gave way. They captured and searched the Sheriff, but not fluding the keys, proceeded to break open the jail and the cells. Five different ones were opened before the object of their search was, found. On opening the right cell schell was taken out with a rope around his neck and placed in a No. 1 drygoods box directly under the limb of a tree. On being asked Allie McLaughlin," and was about to repea

Allie McLaughlin," and was about to repeat the same thing in a tremulous voice, when some one kicked the box from under him, the rope in the meantime having been lastened to the limb above, and his body writhe I and dangled in the air with the foet almost touching the ground.

There was great excitement of course during the proceedings, but everything was done in the most systematic manner, especially taking him from the jail. The lyncher's came prepared with sledges and tools, and as soon as it was discovered that the keys could not be found, went to work cutting away hinges and breaking in doors till the prisoner was found. The jail is this morning a perfect wreck, with broken doors, loose panets and hinges lying about in every direction.

The coroner's inquest on the body of Allie McLaughlin was continued yesterday afternoon.

A warrant was issued for Mrs. Schell, and McLaughlin was continued yesterday afternoon.

A warrant was issued for Mrs. Schell, and on being brought in, she testified that her husband had committed the murder; that he told her he intended to ravish her; failing in that to kill her; that he used a peaknife and a butcher-knife, to create the impression that two persons had been engaged in the deed;
that after stabbing her with a knife, as he did in twenty places, he crushed in her skull with his boot-heel, then washed his hands and boot
in the creek, and gave the alarm.

It was this testimony of the wife that set full ablaze the smouldering determination of the people to visit speedy justice on the flend.

A European correspondent says that Tenuyson has been staying in London for a considerable time this season, ash has been out a great deal into society. He has freely expressed his opinion the his new dramatic poem will be a success. The mountings of the play will be asperb. Tennyson, who has cleared many thousand pounds by the sale of his "Queen Mary," is the Very ideal of poet. He wears his hair about his shoulders, and is never seen but in his brigand hat and extensive flowing clear. In a room he is a brilliant conversationalist, but more than a little egotistic and self-important.

The salaries of all the ministers of rospel in America, according to the census, was $3,000,000; we pay $12,000 for the support of criminals, $1,000,000 for the support of grog-shops, am costs us $10,000,000 to support the of the country.
